General Terms and Conditions of Business of Hansgrohe Pte. Ltd.

As of: 1 August 2016

I. Applicability

1. These General Terms and Conditions of Business ("GTC") of Hansgrohe Pte. Ltd. ("Seller") shall apply, to the extent that there are no specific provisions, to all dealer's agreements and all purchase contracts and contracts for work and materials as well as to other orders ("Order(s)") between the Seller and customers (collectively or individually described as "Buyers") who is not a "consumer" as defined under Section 2(1) the Consumer Protection (Fair Trading) Act (Cap 52A) of Singapore ("CPFTA"). Any divergent general terms and conditions of business of the Buyer's shall not be recognized, even if they are not expressly contradicted.
2. The GTC shall also apply similarly and to the same extent to any future business relationships with the same Buyer, even if they have not been again expressly stipulated. Insofar as nothing else is stipulated, the GTC shall apply in the version valid as of the date of the Buyer's order or in any event, in the version most recently communicated to the Buyer using the text-form.

II. Conclusion of contract

1. The offers from the Seller are non-binding, insofar as they are not expressly designated as binding in the text of the offer. The Buyer's order shall be considered a binding contractual offer, which, in the absence of any deviating provision, shall remain valid for at least eight (8) days. The contract shall be formed only when the Seller confirms the Order to the Buyer in writing (including the text-form).
2. The Seller shall assume a guarantee only vis-à-vis end-consumers in accordance with a separate guarantee designated as such.
3. The documents transferred by the Seller within the scope of contract initiation, such as images and drawings, as well as technical details and specifications made by the Seller, shall be decisive as to its specifications and descriptions. Any technical, engineering, or other changes to the order shall be permissible, if and to the extent acceptable for the Buyer.
4. In the event of any irreconcilable conflict between the provisions of this GTC and the dealer's agreement, the provisions of the dealer's agreement shall prevail. A written contract or the written confirmation by the Seller shall be decisive for the content of such agreements.

III. Scope of delivery, transportation, and passing of risk

1. Delivery by the Seller is stipulated to be "ex works" or at another point of shipment known to the Buyer, where the place of performance for the delivery and any supplementary performance is located. The risk shall pass to the Buyer by no later than the date of the shipment of the goods. If the shipment is delayed by the conduct of the Buyer or due to circumstances for which the Seller is not culpable, then the risk shall pass to the Buyer upon notification of readiness for delivery.

2. To the extent not otherwise stipulated, the Buyer shall effect transportation insurance at its own expense on the basis of customary terms and conditions therefore, which insurance shall cover transportation risk of the goods encompassed by the order from the place of shipment to the stipulated destination. The expenses of transportation shall be borne by the Buyer in accordance with Part V below.
3. In the event that any commercial clauses herein do not stipulate concerning any situation and there is a doubt or dispute as to the legal position between the parties or there is a lacuna, the relevant INCOTERMS 2010 as currently amended as at the date of the agreement shall apply to resolve that doubt, dispute or fill that lacuna.
4. The Seller shall have the right to make partial deliveries and issue partial invoices in a reasonable scope prior to the expiration of the delivery deadline.
5. If the shipment or the delivery of the deliverable is delayed at the request of the Buyer or due to circumstances which are caused by or originate within the Buyer's sphere of risk and responsibility, then the Buyer shall reimburse the Seller for any warehousing expenses that have arisen, as well as the costs of interest on the capital invested in the deliverable. In the event of warehousing by the Seller, the claim shall amount to at least 0.5% of the still-outstanding invoice amount for each month outstanding, beginning one (1) month after notification of the readiness for delivery. The Buyer is entitled to verify that no damage or that substantially lesser damage has arisen. However, the Seller shall have the right, after setting a reasonable deadline and in the absence of such verified proof thereof, to dispose of the deliverable and to deliver a substitute to the Buyer within a reasonably extended deadline or to cancel the contract.
6. Hansgrohe will procure that the products shipped by Hansgrohe to the buyer comply with the laws and regulations of the country / countries designated by the buyer. In case the buyer - after receipt of the products - exports the products to third countries it is the obligation of the buyer to make sure that the products comply with the applicable local laws and regulations of such countries with regard to the products. If, however, the buyer chooses to export products to third countries, the buyer is solely responsible for any and all liability resulting from any non-compliance of the products.

IV. Delivery deadlines and operational disruptions

1. Delivery deadlines shall commence no earlier than after the receipt of all documents requisite for determining the contents of the Order, insofar as the Buyer shall procure such in accordance with the agreement and, as the case may be, after receiving down-payment. A delivery deadline is complied with if the delivery is brought to dispatch within the deadline or if notification has been made of the readiness for delivery.
2. Delivery deadlines shall be extended upon the occurrence of such circumstances for which the Seller or its suppliers are not culpable and which have a significant impact upon the fabrication or the delivery of the goods (e.g., including industrial strikes or unrest, terrorist acts, fire outbreaks, floods, storms or increment weather, and/or any other frustrating or force majeure events, and/or any other operational disruptions for which the Seller or its suppliers are not responsible), for the duration of the operational disruption. The Seller shall inform the Buyer about any reasonably foreseeable or prospective operational disruption and set a new delivery date. If the goods are undeliverable even by the new delivery deadline, then both parties shall have the right to cancel the contract, in whole or in part; any consideration the Buyer has already rendered shall be reimbursed without undue delay. Any claims for compensatory damages in lieu of performance as contemplated under Part X below as well as to the Seller's rights under the Sales of Goods Act, including, but not limited to those in the event of an inability to perform (e.g., due to impossibility) shall remain unaffected.

3. The prerequisites of any delivery default shall be determined, irrespective of the provisions above, in accordance with the Sales of Goods Act. However, in every case, a written warning notice from the Buyer shall be necessary.

V. Prices and ancillary expenses

1. Deliveries shall be effected at the prices current upon entering into the contract, in accordance with the Seller's confirmation of the Order. All prices shall be valid ex works/place of delivery. All prices shall be understood to be in Euros, insofar as not otherwise marked, and to include other ancillary expenses (e.g., installation and instruction costs), as well as the statutory value-added tax and any other taxes as provided by law (e.g., customs duties, fees) in the respectively valid amounts.
2. The Seller reserves the right to reasonably raise the fixed stipulated prices for a time period of more than four (4) months if, after entering into the contract, increased costs occur, including, but not limited to those due to collective bargaining agreements, market-based acquisition prices, or increases in the price of materials. These shall be substantiated upon demand to the person or party placing the Order.
3. In the event of an Order value below €50.00, the Seller shall invoice a €10.00 minimum-quantity surcharge. Accepted quantities that are smaller than the specified packaging units shall be processed with a 10% surcharge on the net value of the goods.
4. If the delivery is effected to outside third parties, then a surcharge of 10% of the net value of the goods shall be invoiced.
5. For Orders with a net goods value of €750.00 or more, the delivery shall be effected with freight pre-paid; in the event of a net goods value below €750.00, the freight costs shall be charged in the invoice. Any express costs and fees for delivery of goods via mail shall always be borne by the person or party placing the Order.

VI. Payment and default

1. Payments are to be rendered without any deduction, as specified in the invoice, immediately after receipt of the invoice and delivery of the goods to the Seller. The Seller shall, however, at all times have the right to carry out the respective delivery, in whole or in part, against pre-payment only. A corresponding reservation shall be declared by no later than at confirmation of Order. The Seller expressly reserves the right to accept cheques. Cheques shall only be accepted as payment after they have been redeemed. All payments are to be rendered free of expenses. In the case of cheques, the Buyer, even without any express agreement, shall also have to bear any discount, collection, and any other bank charges. Payments shall be set-off strictly in this order: first against any costs, then interest, and then each older main receivable, regardless of how of what each payment might be earmarked by the Buyer for.
2. In the event of default, default interest shall be charged in the statutory amount, but at least 9% per annum; in the event that this rate should be unenforceable for any reason, it shall remain possible to substantiate a lesser rate up to the amount of the statutory prescribed interest rate.

3. The Buyer shall be entitled to a right-of set-off and retention vis-à-vis the Seller's claims only if the counterclaim is undisputed or has been judicially determined. This provision shall not apply to the extent that the counterclaim directly concerns the Seller's primary performance or duty arising from the same contract.
4. Any assignment of claims shall require the written consent of the Seller.
5. If, after entering into the agreement or after delivery of the goods, it becomes discernible that the Buyer is not or is no longer creditworthy, e.g. Buyer is unable to pay any of its debts as and when they become due, which includes (a) any legal proceedings commenced or adjudged against the Buyer for unpaid sums, and (b) any distress or execution proceedings initiated or levied against any property of the Buyer; (c) any mature invoices despite reminders have not been paid; or (d) any other asset deterioration occurs, then the Seller shall be able to immediately assert claims even for receivables not yet matured and for such receivables for which a cheque was given. In these instances, for still-undelivered goods the Seller shall be able to demand pre-payment, the rendering of a security, or delivery based solely upon cash-on-delivery. If the Buyer does not comply with this demand within the reasonable deadline set for it, then the Seller shall have the right to cancel the contract. All the rights of the Seller at law (including statutory rights under the Sales of Goods Act) shall remain unaffected.

VII. Retention of title

1. The Seller shall retain title to the delivered goods until settlement of all receivables arising from the business relation with the Buyer on the date of entering into the contract, including all receivables arising on this date from follow-up orders, repeat orders, or orders for spare parts. To the extent that the value of all security interests to which the Seller is entitled exceeds the value of all secured claims by more than 10%, the Seller shall, at the request of the Buyer, release a commensurate share of the security interest.
2. In the event of any conduct of the Buyer in contravention of the contract, including, but not limited to default in payment, the Seller shall have the right to take back the goods that are subject to the retention of title. In the Seller's reclaiming or attaching the goods subject to retention of title, there shall not be any cancellation of the contract, unless the Seller expressly confirms such in writing. The Seller shall be authorized to re-sell the goods to another party; the proceeds from the re-sale are to be set-off against the Buyer's obligations including the contract price, less any expenses that have arisen. The Buyer shall be obligated to treat the goods subject to retention of title with due care and to store them separately from other goods. Furthermore, the Buyer shall be obligated to sufficiently insure these goods at its own expense and at replacement value against any damages due to damage from fire, explosion, water, flood, storm, burglary, and theft. Any security-interest claims arising in the event of damage are to be assigned to the Seller. Insofar that any maintenance and inspection work are necessary, the Buyer shall carry these out at its own expense and in a timely manner.
3. The Buyer shall not be allowed either to pledge or to assign for security or otherwise encumber the goods that are subject to the retention of title. In the event of pledges or any other infringements or enforcement actions of third parties, the Buyer shall notify the Seller in writing without undue delay and to provide the Seller with all information and documents which are necessary to safeguard the Seller's rights. Officials charged with forced execution or third parties are to be advised of the Seller's title. Insofar as a third party is not in a position to reimburse the Seller for the in- and out-of-court costs of a third-party complaint in objection, the Buyer shall be liable for any shortage arising to the Seller, subject to the assertion of further claims for damage to, modification to, or destruction of the item itself.

4. The Buyer shall be allowed to resell and/or to process the goods subject to retention of title in the ordinary course of business, as long as the Seller does not assert against the Buyer any rights arising from the ownership proviso. The Buyer agrees to now assign to the Seller all receivables in the amount of the final invoice amount, including value-added tax, which receivables accrue to the Buyer from the resale against its customers or third parties, and moreover, independently of whether the item has been resold without or after processing; and the Seller agrees to accept the assignment. In the event of a current account relationship between the Buyer and its customer, the receivable assigned in advance by the Buyer to the Seller shall also apply to the acknowledged balance as well as, in the event of the customer's bankruptcy. The Buyer shall also be allowed to collect on the receivables after the assignment and the Seller's authorization to collect the receivable itself shall remain unaffected. The Seller shall not itself collect the receivable as long as the Buyer complies with its payment obligations arising from the earned proceeds, the Buyer is not in payment default, and there is no application to initiate bankruptcy proceedings.
5. The Buyer shall be obligated upon demand by the Seller to provide a precise list of receivables to which the Seller is entitled, with the names and addresses of the customers, the amount of the individual receivables, the invoice dates, etc.; to relay to the Seller all of the information necessary to enforce the assigned receivable; to permit a review of this information; and to disclose the assignment to the customers.
6. The Buyer hereby declares its understanding and permission that the persons charged by the Seller with picking up the goods subject to retention of title, may enter or drive into the building or the premises, in or at which the goods subject to retention of title are located, in order to repossess the goods subject to the retention of title.
7. The processing or remodeling by the Buyer of the item delivered shall always be performed for the Seller. If the item is processed with other objects not belonging to the Seller, then the Seller shall be deemed to have acquired joint title in the new item in proportion to the value of the item delivered to the other processed items as of the time of processing. Apart from that, the same shall apply to the item arising from processing as to the item delivered subject to retention. If the processing, commingling, or mixing is effected in such a manner that the Buyer's item is to be regarded as the primary item, then it shall be deemed as stipulated that the Buyer is transferring pro rata joint ownership to the Seller. The Buyer shall take all reasonable steps to safeguard the sole title or joint title for the Seller that has so arisen.

VIII. Claims for defects – limitation period

1. The Sales of Goods Act shall apply to the rights of the Buyer in the event of any material defects and defects of title. Such shall be without prejudice to the provisions governing final delivery of the goods to a consumer (supplier recourse as provided under Section 52 of the Sales of Goods Act where a court order for specific performance is made against the Buyer); however, the provisions in Part X below shall apply to any claim for compensatory damages even in the event of recourse to a supplier.

2. Any claims of the Buyer for defects shall be pre-conditioned upon the fact that the Buyer has properly complied with the obligations to inspect and to give notice of defects within the notice period under the warranty period or otherwise within 60 months from date of purchase if no other notice period has been provided.
3. If a deliverable is defective, then the Buyer shall have the following rights:
  - a. The Seller shall be obligated to supplementary performance and shall render such by, at its own discretion, remedying the defect by way of repair, or delivering a defect-free item.
  - b. If the repair fails, then the Buyer shall have the right to cancel the contract or to reduce the purchase price. Any cancellation shall be precluded if the breach of duty by the Seller is negligible. Any claims of the Buyer for compensatory damages or reimbursement of futile expenditures shall also exist in the event of defects, only in accordance with the provisions under Part X below.
  - c. Any supplementary performance shall not include the dismantling of the defective goods nor the installation of a new or repaired good, unless the Seller was originally already obligated to carry out the installation.
  - d. The expenditures necessary for the purpose of testing and supplementary performance, including, but not limited to, labor and materials costs (but not the dismantling and installation costs or costs of transporting the goods to the site of supplementary performance), shall be borne by the Seller, if there is any actual defect still present. Otherwise, the Seller shall be able to demand and recover from the Buyer that any expenses (including but not limited to costs of testing and transportation) having arisen from the unjustified demand for defect remediation be reimbursed, unless the lack of any defect was not cognizable for the Buyer.
  - e. The Buyer shall provide the Seller, after coordinated agreement with the Seller, the requisite time and opportunity for the performance of all repairs and replacement deliveries which appear necessary to the Seller. Otherwise, the Seller shall be released from any liability for any consequences arising therefrom. If the Buyer, for operational reasons, desires that a technician be dispatched on an urgent basis, or that work be carried out outside normal work hours, both of which incur additional expense for the Seller, then the Buyer shall bear any additional expense thereby incurred (e.g., overtime surcharges, longer access routes).
  - f. Warranty shall be provided for spare parts and for repairs in the same scope as for the original deliverable, but, however, limited in time through to the end of the warranty period for the original deliverable.

IX. Returns

1. Goods delivered by the Seller shall not be returned, unless there exists an appropriate claim of the Buyer (e.g., due to cancellation on account of failed subsequent performance).
2. If, by way of exception in the individual case, the Seller declares that it is ready to accept a return, then appropriate recompense (as a guide this is 25% of the net worth of the goods) shall be levied for this purpose within the framework of a corresponding agreement. The risk of transportation and the costs of transportation shall be borne by the Buyer.

X. Liability for compensatory damages

1. The Seller shall be liable for compensatory damages in accordance with the Sales of Goods Act, to the extent that nothing else is specifically provided below. In the event of breaches of duty – the Seller shall be liable for any willful intent and gross negligence. In the event of simple negligence, the Seller shall be liable only:
  - a. for damages arising from injury to life, limb, or health, and
  - b. for damages arising from any considerable breach of a material contractual duty (duty whose accomplishment enables proper fulfillment of the contract in the first place and whose fulfillment a contractual party regularly relies or may rely on); in this case, the liability shall, however, be limited to the compensation of any foreseeable, and actual damage subject always to the limits in paragraph 2 of this Part section (below).
2. Notwithstanding any other provision to the contrary in this GTC and any Order, and to the fullest extent permitted under the applicable law:
  - a. the maximum cumulative liability of the Seller under this GTC and all Orders for all or any loss or damage whether arising in contract, tort (including negligence), breach of statutory duty or otherwise shall be limited to the sum of the amount paid by the Buyer to the Seller, whichever is lower; and
  - b. the liability of the Seller, whether in contract, tort (including negligence or breach of statutory duty) or any other cause of action, for any loss of profit, business, contracts, revenues, or anticipated savings, any special, incidental, indirect or consequential loss or damage, and any loss of use, loss of reputation or goodwill, loss of custom or customer relationships (collectively known as “indirect loss of or damage”) is hereby expressly excluded.

The aforementioned limitations of liability shall also apply to the benefit of the Seller’s employees, co-workers, sales representatives, and support staff.

3. The liability exclusions or limitations shall not apply to the extent that the Seller has maliciously concealed a defect or has assumed a guarantee for a certain quality of the item.

XI. Rescission of the purchase contract

1. In the event of rescission of the purchasing contract (e.g., due to cancellation of one of the contracting parties), the Buyer shall be obligated, irrespective of the remaining process as contemplated under the following paragraphs, to surrender the deliverable to the Seller in advance. The Seller shall have the right to have the deliverable picked up from the Buyer’s premises.
2. Furthermore, the Seller shall be able to demand reasonable compensatory payment from the Buyer for any deterioration or destruction of the deliverable, or anything occurring or having occurred that renders surrender of the deliverable impossible for another reason, which occurrence lies within the sphere of the Buyer’s risk or responsibility. In addition, the Seller shall be able to demand compensatory payment for the use or the usage of the deliverable if the value of the deliverable has declined between the completion of its installation and its completed, immediate repossession by the Seller. This decline in value shall be computed from the difference of the total price in accordance with the order and the current fair value as it is determined by the sales proceeds or, if a sale is not possible, through the estimate of a sworn expert.

XII. Assignment

No assignment of rights and/or transfer of the duties of the Buyer arising from this contract shall be permissible without the written consent of the Seller.

XIII. Export control provisions

1. The deliverables may be subject to the export control provisions of the Federal Republic of Germany, of the European Union, of the United States of America, or of other countries.
2. In the event of a subsequent export of the deliverable to a foreign country, the Buyer shall be responsible for compliance with the provisions of law.

XIV. Place of jurisdiction and applicable law

1. The law of the Republic of Singapore shall apply exclusively to these GTC and the contractual relationship between the parties, to the exclusion of uniform international law, United Nations Sales of Goods and any other laws and regulations. The choice of law shall also apply to extra-contractual debt relationships standing in close connection with the contract.
2. The exclusive forum of jurisdiction for any and all disputes, claims and controversies arising from or relating to this contract shall be the Courts of the Republic of Singapore.
